Información sobre la empresa:

Technisch Buro Wissing BV is an installation agency working in the maintenance, renovation and new construction of homes and offices. Our regular clients are various housing associations and property managers. We aim to deliver top quality in every project and put the client and his wishes first.

Over the past 75 years, Technisch Buro Wissing has built up a large, regular clientele. Our expertise lies in the field of office and industrial buildings, shopping centres and care centres as well as in housing construction and education. Most of our clients are located in the Eindhoven region, but we also count offices or buildings of clients in other regions among our clients.

Technisch Buro Wissing is a completely independent electrotechnical advice and installation company. After all, no installation can be carried out without advice. Technisch Buro Wissing can be hired for the construction of a complete electrical installation, as well as for small jobs such as installing an extra wall socket. We offer a complete service package when it comes to electrical installations, from networks to domotics and from security systems to sustainable installations, such as solar panels and LED lighting. New in the range are charging stations for electronic cars and gas detection for car parks.
